

The Center for Justice, Tolerance, and Community presents:

A film by Lee Mun Wah

From the award winning director of The Color of Fear, comes Lee Mun Wah's long awaited documentary about nine women and men who begin an electrifying conversation about the pain and anguish that racism and sexism has had on their lives and families. A must see film for anyone who has ever wondered what it will take to end the violence and hatred overwhelming our country and the world.

Santa Cruz Premiere with Director Lee Mun Wah and castmembers

Tuesday, October 7, 2003

6-9:30pm at Kresge Town Hall, UC Santa Cruz

For more information, contact the CJTC at 831.459.5743 or visit our website at:

<http://cjtc.ucsc.edu>