

Race and The Crisis: A Conversation in the Aftermath of 9/11

Speakers:

Angela Davis
Maha ElGenaidi
Bob Wing

With a reading by:

John Brown Childs

Wednesday, October 17
8:00 – 10:00p.m.
Holy Cross Parish Hall
170 High St., Santa Cruz

Angela Davis is Professor of History of Consciousness at UC Santa Cruz. A long-time political activist and scholar on issues of race and social justice, her most recent book is Blues Legacies and Black Feminism.

Maha ElGenaidi is founder and Executive Director of the Islamic Networks Group, as well as a member of the Santa Clara County Human Relations Commission and the South Bay Arab-Jewish Dialogue Group.

Bob Wing is a veteran political analyst and activist, and founding editor of Colorlines, a national magazine devoted to covering the politics and creations of communities of color.

John Brown Childs is Professor of Sociology at UC Santa Cruz. His newest book is Transcommunitality: From the Politics of Conversion to the Ethics of Respect (forthcoming, Temple University Press).

Sponsored by the Ad Hoc Faculty Working Group on Current Events, the Institute for Humanities Research, the Center for Cultural Studies, the Center for Global, International & Regional Studies, the Center for Justice, Tolerance, & Community, the Divisions of Humanities & Social Science, College Nine, and the Office of the Chancellor. For more information, contact the Center for Justice, Tolerance, & Community at (831) 459-5743 [cjtc@cats.ucsc.edu] or the Institute for Humanities Research (831) 459-5655 [sritchie@cats.ucsc.edu].

This project is made possible in part by a grant from the September 11 Community Dialogue Fund of the California Council for the Humanities, a state affiliate of the National Endowment for the Humanities.

